There is nothing like The Angel of the North. It is a giant sculpture near Newcastle, in the north of England. It is 20 metres tall and 50 metres wide. It is the largest sculpture in England.

The sculptor, Antony Gormley, started work on it in 1994, and finished it in 1998. He made it from strong steel. Local factories made the different parts of the sculpture. They took them to the site by lorry. They drove for seven hours to the site, only a few kilometres away from the factory. The steel was very heavy and they drove very slowly.

When they first saw the sculpture, some people loved it. Other people didn't like it; they hated it. Some people went there to look at it, and others wrote messages on it.

Now, after ten years, it is part of England.
